Long Term Strategic Growth Drivers in Place...

Increased focus on specialty chemical to boost operating margin: Fineotex Chemical Limited (FCL) has posted consolidated revenue growth at CAGR of 8.0% over the period of FY12-16. EBITDA recorded significant growth at CAGR of 37.3% during same period whereas EBITDA margin has also grown by 819bps YoY to 24.7% in FY16 due to overall decline in raw material cost by 618 bps YoY. PAT Margin has grown by 301 bps YoY in FY16. We believe that the company will continue with growth momentum and it might record EBITDA and PAT growth of 24.6%-24.8% and 7.3%-9.5% respectively, during FY17E-18E on the back of robust demand by end user industries for higher yield specialty chemical production, onsite/offsite R&D facilities for product customization and niche clientele portfolio.

Capex to drive growth: FCL has planned for Rs. 80-100 mn capex for expanding manufacturing activities on recently acquired land in Nawada (Bihar), Khopoli (Maharashtra) and Ambernath (Maharashtra) funded through 100% internal accruals. We believe that this capacity expansion will help to add topline growth by CAGR of 662 bps during FY16-18E.

Healthy Balance sheet with Zero debt: FCL is cash rich company with cash & equivalent of around Rs. 350-400 Mn (including investment in securities) & enjoying zero debt which will support to execute growth plans without affecting the financial performance of the company.

Valuation and Outlook

FCL majorly focuses on high margin specialty chemical business and capacity expansion plan with healthy financials coupled with zero debt and is currently trading at CMP of Rs.26.9, representing PE 15.1x FY18E EPS. We value the company at average P/E of 18.2x FY18E EPS. We initiate the coverage of the company with "BUY" recommendation on the stock with the target price of Rs. 33.0, representing an upside potential of 22.7%, for a time frame of 9-12 months.

Exhibit 3: Revenue Segmentation (%)

Source: Company, Karvy Research

Increasing footsteps in high margin special chemical manufacturing business:

Source: Company, Karvy Research

FCL posted consolidated revenue stream growth CAGR of 8.0% from FY12 to FY16 and EBITDA recorded significant growth at CAGR of 37.3% during same period whereas EBITDA margin has also grown by 819bps YoY to 24.4% in FY16 due to overall decline in raw material cost to the tune of 618 bps YoY. PAT Margin has grown by 301 bps YoY in FY16 due to management eye on high margin specialty chemical business. We expect that the company is likely to record EBITDA and PAT to grow at 24.9% and 9.5% YoY, respectively in FY17E. on the back of robust demand by end user industries for higher yield specialty chemical production based on increase quality expectation and fashionable textile products, available assistant for onsite/offsite R&D facilities for product customization and niche clientele portfolio.

Capex to drive growth; Funding through internal accruals:

FCL has planned for Rs. 80-100 Mn capex (funded 100% from internal accruals) for expansion manufacturing activities on recently acquired land in Ambernath (Maharashtra), Newada (Bihar) and Khopoli (Maharashtra). FCL is expected to generate Free Cash Flow (FCF) in the range of Rs. 106-117 Mn during FY17E-FY18E. This will bring much needed synergy to specialty chemical business and bring in optimization in use of various utilities and manpower which is currently available with the company. Currently, the company operates at 53%-55% capacity utilization from overall production capacity i.e., 22000MT/PA which is normal in this industry under same capacity. FCL has therefore set the target of its capacity utilization at 60% in next couple of years by way of adding machine and equipments on existing and new facilities. Such strategy could ramp up to meet additional orders in the course of business that requires higher production time. We believe that this capacity expansion will help to add topline growth by ~8.0% in FY17E.

Innovation will add value to the product and improve margin:

FCL has well established R&D based in Navi Mumbai with customization capabilities which suit to all types of substrates, processes and machines, which not only improve properties of the final product with higher efficiency but also help meet client demand of onsite/offsite product customization services. Continuing focus on new product will scale up organic growth of the company. The growing share of value-added products will make it possible for the company to enhance margin of the business.

Robust Balance sheet with Zero debt:

FCL is cash rich company with cash & equivalent of around Rs. 350 - 400 Mn (including investment in securities) in FY16 having zero debt to support organic and inorganic growth of the company. Further, the company has recorded healthy operating cash flow which helps to grow its operations. We believe that cash rich position helps the company to execute growth plans without adversely affecting the financial performance of the company.

Major Revenue Player - Textile Segment:

FCL manufactures the entire value chain for the textile industry including pre-treatment, dyeing, printing and finishing process. Textile contributes to 85.0% of total revenue stream and rest from other industries. The company is one of the strongest players in finishing textile chemicals segment in India, with a higher focus on all type of textile applications like cotton, polyester, polyester Lycra, polyester wool etc which have higher applicability in textiles products and are more profitable. It consumes more than 300 raw materials like DCDA, DMA, 2 Ethyl Hexanol, Maleic Anhydrite, Acrylamide, Organic Surfactants, Butyl & Styrene Acrylate, Deta, Para formaldehyde etc.

Overseas sales grew by 8.8% YoY to Rs. 435 Mn in FY16, recorded at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of the transaction across 33 countries including Argentina, Bangladesh, Indonesia, UAE, Thailand, Pakistan, Colombia, Vietnam, Singapore, Sri Lanka, Iran and Tanzania etc.

Industry Outlook:

Indian Specialty chemical sector to grow on the back of GDP Expansion, increase demand by end user industries:

The Indian Specialty Chemical sector has huge potential for growth and it is highly fragmented and rooted in science, provide valuable services and used as inputs into large number & different type of industries. Specialty Chemical businesses are low volume and high profitable business which is derived from basic chemicals and sold on the basis of their functionality, demanded by various industries needs like textile, dye and pigment, paint, adhesives, electronic chemicals, water management chemicals, oilfield chemicals, flavors and fragrances, rubber processing additives, paper additives, industrial cleaners and fine chemical. Sealants, coatings, catalysts also come under this category.

According to FICCI Specialty Chemical report and 12th Five year plan document, the Global Specialty Chemical industry growth is pegged at 22% to 23% which comes around $740 Bn market size on the back of higher demand from various end user industries. In terms of CAGR, the industry is expected to grow at 5.4% annually to reach at ~ $970 Bn market size by 2016 due to incremental demand by interlinked industries across the globe, especially Asian and emerging markets.

Furthermore, the Indian Chemical Industry is playing a critical role in nation building and enhancing the quality of life. It accounts for around $17.7 bn (excluding agro chemicals, dyes & pigments) market size which is estimated to grow at CAGR of 17%, driven by end user industries growth, increased consumption level by end user industries, growing export market and Government of India's permission for 100% FDI in chemical industry. The growth potential consumption of specialty chemicals is strong and is expected to reach approximately $44 bn by FY19E.

Robust Client Network:

FCL has strong global footprint with presence across 33 countries majorly in Europe and Asian regions. FCL enjoys longstanding relationships with marquee clients in domestic markets also. Presently, FCL is a key supplier for around 65 corporate customers for textile industry and non-textile players like Sutlej, Himatsingka, Chenab, Birla, Grasim, Reliance, GHCL, Arvind, Jayasree, Bhaskar, Raymonds, Denim, Windsor, Pidilite, Clariant, etc.

TEXTILE INDUSTRY CLIENTS

OTHER INDUSTRY CLIENTS

Future Business Outlook:

FCL has made gradual capital allocation to increase capacities as needed and runs its facilities at optimum utilization before planning any new capex. Presently, the company is taking priority to enhance its capacity in textile chemical segment with more product range i.e., more than 400 specialty chemicals and its novel applications and also looking to penetrate specialty chemical for non-textile segment by tapping broad clientele base.

Revenue to grow at CAGR of 6.6% during FY16-FY18E
Exhibit 11:

Source: Company, Karvy Research

FCL has experienced growth of revenue at a CAGR of 8.0% during FY12-16. Growth momentum continued further, expected to grow at CAGR of 6.6% during FY16-18E on the back of capex expansion, increased domestic demand, increasing valued share of existing clients & tapping newer clientele base.

EBITDA to increase at a CAGR of 7.6% during FY16-FY18E
Exhibit 12:

Source: Company, Karvy Research

FCL has posted double digit EBITDA margin of 24.4% during FY16 due to focus on higher yield products led to low raw material cost. We expect that EBITDA margin to be better in the event of higher capacity utilization of its existing plants and majorly focus on value added product sales going forward, could accelerate margin growth in the range of 24.6-24.8% during FY16-FY18E.

PAT to increase at a CAGR of 8.4% during FY16-18E

Exhibit 13:

Source: Company, Karvy Research

FCL has recorded PAT growth of 29.8% CAGR during FY12-16. The momentum is likely to continue on the back of focus on higher margin and higher value product mix, register a growth momentum CAGR of 8.4% during FY16-FY18E.

Current Ratio

Exhibit 14:

Source: Company, Karvy Research

FCL has average current ratio and quick ratio at 3.1x and 2.5x during FY13-FY16, respectively. During next couple of years, we are expecting average current ratio and quick ratio at 3.1x & 2.4x which show an overall good working capital management for the company.

RoE & RoCE to remain moderate growth during FY16-18E

Exhibit 15:

Source: Company, Karvy Research

FCL's RoE & RoCE stand at 20.3% and 22.0% respectively during FY16, which have grown up from 18.3% & 19.5% in FY15 due to strong growth in bottom line and operating margins. We believe that growth momentum likely to be continued for RoE and RoCE in next couple of financial years and register at 17.5%-18.9% and 18.5%-20.3%, respectively.

Net Debt / Equity Ratio

Exhibit 16:

Source: Company, Karvy Research

The company is debt free company having net debt to equity ratio of (0.07x) during FY16. We expect that the ratio will be at (0.09x) in next couple of financial years on the back of improving operating cash flows and repayment of debt through its internal accrual.

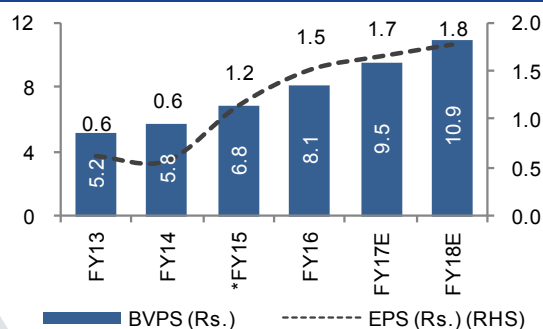

Dividend and Dividend Payout

Exhibit 17:

Source: Company, Karvy Research

Over the years, FCL has consistently distributed stable dividends with healthy payout ratios. We believe that the company is likely to continue its high dividend payout policy. The company also invested left over money in quoted and unquoted equity instruments and majority part of the amount in mutual funds.
